| Book Title | Author | Notes |
|---|--|--|
| Drumcondra and Its Environs | Louis O'Flaherty | Interesting and well researched book covering all areas of Drumcondra. |
| My Fight for Irish Freedom | Dan Breen | A riveting book about the Irish Civil War with a number of Chapters dedicated to the Drumcondra Affray |
| A history of Glasnevin, the village, lands and people. | Tony O'Doherty | Tells the story of Glasnevin back as far as the sixth century. |
| The story of Croke Park | Micheal O Muircheartaigh. | The Renowned Commentator takes us through the history the GAA and its most iconic stadium, Croke Park. |
| The history of the Royal Canal | Waterways Ireland | Since 1796 when the canal opened it has been at the heart of Dublin's North City. |
| Mountjoy, The story of a prison | Tim Carey | Beginning with the question, why prison, this book intertwines the story of this city of cells with historical issues and events that set it in a broader context. The invention of prisons, their purpose and how they are viewed by society. |
| The brightest jewel, a history of the national botanic gardens, Dublin. | E. Charles Nelson Eileen M. McCracken. | As it says in the title, tells the history of the beautiful Botanic Gardens. |
| Dalymount Park, the home of Irish football. | Colin White | With a forward by John Giles, it's a must have for Irish Soccer Fans. |
| | | |
| | | |
| | | |
| | | |
| | | |
| | | |
| | | |